

DOYUWANNA

I put you in that zone my friend then you stopped caring then I started getting too conscious bout things like what you're wearing like what your hair's like and your eyes and how I hate goodbyes specially when millions of miles will part us Friday when I hit the skies and how I thought this really wasn't a situation at all when I take seat on a high horse we're talking forty feet tall then I should understand how many bones will break when I fall do you wanna hang out with me sometime before I go do you wanna hang out with me sometime before I go

I made it seem like we should be guess that wasn't very nice of me summer child a year before me december 1993
the moon the air a whole city was too magic but I told you dont touch and ever since that day, my love, you haven't been saying too much thought we could be friends we could be friendly could show love but not make it though but thats not how it works I guess just put on a music video

do you wanna hang out with me sometime before I go
do you wanna hang out with me sometime before I go
